OUT ON THE LIMB with George Vierhus

NATIONAL NEWSPAPER WEEK, which is being observed this year from Oct. 9-15, provides newspapers with an excellent opportunity to focus public attention on the function and importance of newspapers to their communities and the nation.

The "week" has been in existence for 27 years.

But each year its value increases, for newspapers and the public are prone to take each other for granted.

A set time seems to be needed to review the part that newspapers have played throughout history in the fight for freedom and the continuing battle for the public's right to know.

GENERALLY SPEAKing, we have found, that people have little conception of how a newspaper is produced. What a newspaperman often thinks is old hat because he has been exposed to it for so many years proves fascinating and startling to the average person.

The organized confusion of a newspaper also often bothers people who are used to routine and systemized procedures.

National Newspaper Week, as you can see, can and does serve a very useful purpose, if for nothing else but to clear up some of the misunderstandings that have existed.

We know you people probably have definite ideas of what you consider a "good" or "bad" paper. We doubt, however, whether you can figure out how you arrived at your conclusion.

MOST NEWSPAPER PEOPLE strive to put out the best paper they can with what they have to work with.

Some, of course, fall miserably short of what the readers think their newspaper should be.

So we think National Newspaper Week is really a two-way street.

Newspapers should take a long, hard look at what they have been doing to see if they can do a better job.

The week also emphasizes to the public that "newspapers make a BIG DIFFERENCE in in people's lives."

We like to think that The Campbell Press has always been in there pitching and will continue to do so in the future.

Even if some of the pitches sometimes may miss the plate.

ONE OF THE MOST REWARDING phases of a community newspaper editor's existence are the letters, phone calls and personal visits he receives from his "constituents".

This does not mean to imply that all such calls, letters or visits are complimentary in nature.

We wouldn't want it thataway to start with. We would be lost in Council agrees on sign campaign

Campbell real estate man Bill Harrison and the City Council made a bargain Monday night. Harrison agreed to remove his non-conforming illegal signs erected without a permit on his building located at 2065 Winchester Blvd. on condition that the City enforce the ordinance all over town, and eliminate other illegal signs without discrimination. Harrison stated he was "fighting for a principle" and equal treatment.

The Councilmen accepted the challenge and directed the City Staff to enforce the sign ordinance with diligence throughout the area. At the same time the Council rescinded the Planning Commission's decision to deny him permission to erect a perpendicular sign on his building. The sign under appeal is for a restaurant, "Betty's Inn" located in Harrison's building.

It has been the policy of the Planners to encourage signs flat against the building rather than protruding over the sidewalk area. Until this policy is written specifically into the ordinance, the Council indicated they were unable to enforce it. The City Staff will bring a report to the Council within the next 60 days of known violations of the sign ordinance issued without permits. The Council on Harrison's appeal from the Planning Commission decision.

DOWN THEY GO--These interesting but illegal signs on the building owned by Bill Harrison, 2065 Winchester Blvd. will come down this week. Harrison agreed to remove all of his non-conforming signs if the City will "pursue with diligence" a campaign to eliminate other illegal signs in the city. The Council has accepted Harrison's challenge.

I could have danced all night

A funny thing happened at the Campbell Firefighter's Association annual bash at the American Legion Hall Saturday night. It was raided! Nobody remembered to obtain a liquor license!

Alcoholic Beverage Control Agents made a routine check of the party, bought a couple of drinks, and immediately put a damper on the affair. ABC Agents confiscated a dozen quarts of liquor, lots of beer and a bucketful of tickets.

The fireman's annual party was attended by nearly 200 persons. A steak barbecue and dancing to the music of Frank Palermo was the entertainment for the evening. Beryl Garcia is president of the Firefighter's Association, a volunteer group.

Chief of Police John D. Morgan said that a liquor license for the one evening would have cost $25, but that the officers of the association apparently "forgot about it."

Jerry M. O'Brien, ABC Chief District Supervisor is investigating. At press time no citation had been issued.

City submits projects for expressway program

At an informal public hearing the Campbell City Council Monday night made a motion to submit a list of projects which they consider should be a part of the San Tomas Expressway Bond Program, Phase II, to the County Transportation Policy Committee.

Bill Smeed, City Councilman, will represent Campbell at the Transportation Policy Committee meeting tonight, Oct. 12, in the County Supervisor's Chambers. He expects that the list of projects will be directed to the technical Staff Sub-Committee for study.

The pedestrian overcrossing between Rincon and Budd Ave., is the most needed project this year, according to the Council and the Chamber of Commerce, but the list does not mark the projects by priority. It is the intention of the Council to include all needed projects on the list in hopes that they will all receive equal attention.

THIRTEEN PROJECTS

The list includes the following projects: Construction of square-loop interchange at Hamilton Ave., at a cost of $1,200,000; Landscaping - San Tomas Expressway, $150,000; Improvement of Hamilton Ave. - Bas-

Thieves enter liquor store

Two youths, one from San Francisco and another from Campbell, have been charged with the burglary of Curry's Liquor Store, formerly The Party House, at 487 E. Campbell Ave.

Police have booked Tommy Lee Dye, 21, of 1788 Sunnyvale, San Francisco. The Campbell youth is still at large. Bail has been set at $8250 by Judge Richard Rhodes of the Los Gatos-Campbell Municipal Court.

The burglary was discovered in the early morning hours on Friday by a Campbell Ambulance Company Driver who noticed the two men running from the area. A display window had been smashed with a rock, and police found several bottles of liquor laying on the ground on an Army fatigue type jacket.

Except in Campbell, auto sales mean $ $ $ to cities

by George Vierhus

That traffic on Campbell streets is creating this city's most vexing problem is an obvious conclusion.

But what gives an ironical twist to the situation is that none of the automobiles that jam the city streets were purchased in Campbell

Thus no sales tax has gone into the city coffers from their sales.

How important the automobile sales tax is to a city's fiscal picture becomes expecially glaring each three-month period when the State Board of Equalization issues its report on the taxable retail sales in California.

SALES $10 MILLION

The report for the second quarter of 1966 has just been released. It shows that Campbell's total retail sales for that period topped $10 million for the first time, ($10,468,000 to be exact) a healthy increase of $825,000 in sales over the first quarter.

Campbell's total sales puts this city ahead of many cities of similar population.

But what makes this city's position in the retail sales derby even more outstanding is that only $87,000 is listed under the heading of "auto dealers and auto supplies".

LOS GATOS

But take a look at the Los Gatos picture, for example.

Los Gatos, by the way, has a population of 18,591 compared to Campbell's 21,221.

For the second quarter of this year, total retail taxable sales in Los Gatos came to $11,355,000, a gain of $1,154,000 over the sales in the first three months of $10,201,000.

Of this total of $11,355,000, the category of "auto dealers and auto supplies" accounted for $6,493,000 or more than one half of the entire total.

In the first quarter, "autos" accounted for $5,778,000 of the total of $10,201,000 in Los Gatos.

TWO CATEGORIES

The basic reason that Campbell actually is not suffering in the sales picture which, of course, also means sales tax income, is that this city is far ahead of most municipalities in two special categories...i.e. (1) building materials and (2) home furnishings.

Thanks to such stalwarts as Western Gravel and Campbell Lumber in the building material business and Breuner's in the home furnishings, this city's sales tax income (one per cent sales tax collected goes to each city) has continued to climb each year.

For the second quarter this year, the category of "building materials" accounted for $2,094,000 and "home furnishings" sales were $1,876,000. These two divisions provided $3,970,000 of Campbell's total retail sales of $10,468,000.

During the first quarter this year "home furnishings" topped "building materials" $1,869,000 to $1,781,000. But where "home furnishings" only gained a mere $7000 in sales in the second quarter, "building materials" jumped ahead with an increase of $313,000.

In comparison, Los Gatos showed only $266,000 in "building materials" sales and $298,000 in "home furnishings".

RETAIL ECONOMY

Campbell city officials have long realized the importance of automobile dealerships to the retail economy of a city. But they also realize that Los Gatos is not a fair comparison on the automobile front, for Los Gatos, despite having only a population of 18,591 is topped only by San Jose (359,602 population) and Sunnyvale (84,824 population) in retail sales for "auto dealers and auto sup' plies".

San Jose's auto sales in the second quarter totalled $21,473,000 and Sunnyvale had $8,553,000.

But Los Gatos was ahead of all the other cities in the county, including Palo Alto, Santa Clara and Mountain View.

Los Gatos is one of the few cities in the

In observing National Newspaper Week in 1966, the readers of newspapers should be reassured by at least one substantial gain in the never-ending fight for freedom of the press. That milestone is the passage by Congress and the signing by the President of the federal open records law. This culminates a 12-year campaign by the press under the leadership of that great friend of freedom, Congressman John E. Moss of Sacramento.

Henceforth the burden of defending secrecy will be on those who would withhold information. Heretofore the reporter has had to justify his right to access.

This action once more reflects the eloquent language of California's open meeting law, the Ralph M. Brown Act: "The people of this state do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them. The people, in delegating authority, do not give their public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for them to know. The people insist on remaining informed so that they may retain control over the instruments they have created."

On the other side of the year's ledger is the Sheppard case in which the United States Supreme Court reversed a 1954 Cleveland murder conviction "since the state trial judge did not fulfill his duty to protect Sheppard from the inherently prejudicial publicity which saturated the community and to control disruptive influences in the courtroom..."

We now find press freedom in a head-to-head confrontation with the right to fair trial.

There are those who would minimize this conflict, but it is real and it is dangerous. In this very decision the Supreme Court cited this language:

"The principle that Justice cannot survive behind walls of silence has long been reflected in the 'Anglo-American distrust for secret trials'... A responsible press has always been regarded as the handmaiden of effective judicial administration, expecially in the criminal field. Its function in this regard in documented by an impressive record of service over several centuries. The press does not simply publish information about trials but guards against the miscarriage of justice by subjecting the police, prosecutors and the judicial process to extensive public scrutiny and criticism..."

Yet the reversal itself because of "inherently prejudicial publicity" has had reverberations throughout the nation. Police fear to question suspects, let alone tell the inquiring reporter the pertinent details about a crime. Prosecutors "dummy up" rather than prejudice their own efforts by the threat of reversal. Judges make arbitrary ruling which close the channels of information and justify it all by the Sheppard decision.

At the base of this is the lack of faith of the courts in the integrity of its own people and in the honesty of jurors. It may become the duty of the press to prove to the courts that in this day, the uninformed man is so dangerously out of touch with the mainstream of life that he is suspect -- and that a juror, even though prejudiced by pre-trial news coverage, can and will discard that prejudice when so instructed by the court.

Meanwhile the press, the guardian of freedom, must guard its own ways that the right to a fair trial is not unnecessarily prejudiced by the name-calling headline, or by the fruitless exploitation of information not admissible in the trial.

We who exercise the Freedom of the Press in the name of the public must be ever worthy of the trust imposed upon us.

never-never land, if everyone agreed with us.

BUT A COMMUNITY newspaper editor who is trying to conscientiously do his job must be close to the people and these calls, letters and visits are just tangible evidence that he is "getting through".

And, you know something, in an operation like ours, it is difficult and well nigh impossible to 'pass the buck".

So we take the bitter with the sweet and like every minute of it.

But we don't think it was necessary to make that point known during "National Newspaper Week".

We have a hunch that most of you know that already.

SPEAKING OF LETTERS (and we were), recently we received a neatly typed four-page application, complete with background, from an individual who was interested in becoming associated with The Campbell Press in some capacity.

It was an excellent presentation and very businesslike.

There was just one minor flaw in the salutation.

It was directed to George Vierhus of The Campbell Press with the proper address etc. But the letter started out: "Dear Mr. Campbell".

WE KNOW IT WAS just a typographical error.

On the other hand, in a way that mistake characterizes what we have been trying to convey to you all these years...

The Press and Campbell are very closely related.

In fact, we must admit most of the time it is difficult to tell 'em apart.

And we like it that way.

ANOTHER LETTER we received recently came from Mrs. Noble Kenney, now of Mountain Home, Arkansas, but who lived in Campbell for about 30 years.

Some of you may recall that Noble Kenney had a body shop on E. Central for 15 years. Noble was quite active in both the volunteer firemen organization and the police reserves.

In her letter; Mrs. Kenney asked us to say hello to Fire Chief George Maxwell and his men and to Police Chief John Morgan and Lt. Don Burr and the other officers they knew. (We have.)

ENCLOSED ALSO was payment for a two-year subscription renewal for The Press noting that they certainly enjoy the paper.

She mentioned also that she missed Campbell and its climate which she considered the best in the world.

But she is certain that she will never get Noble and their son to move back. They are both enjoying the fishing on the lakes and rivers nearby and just love it.

She adds that they are also enjoying a much quieter life all around. They don't have to fight traffic for one thing.

Mrs. Kenney also reported on the problems that they have had over the sale of their property in Campbell. She was quite bitter over some phases of the transaction.

The letter is another fringe benefit one gets in operating a community weekly newspaper which we like.

Can you imagine such a letter being written to, say, Joe Ridder of the San Jose Mercury-News?

United Fund nears goal

Santa Clara County United Fund has collicted 27 per cent of its goal this year, according to Campbell campaign Chairman, Harry C. Lind.

Lind, assistant vice-president and manager of First Valley Bank, Campbell, notes that, with $631,729 already pledged, "we are slightly in advance of last year's progress at this time."

The campaign progress was revealed at a meeting which honored "pacesetters" for their successful early contributions towards the $2,358,448 county-wide goal.

Some of the pacesetter employee and professional groups which attended the Oct. 3 meeting reported pledges of more than 30 per cent over those received last year at the same time.

Carl W. Stubenrauch, general manager of Pacific Telephone Co.'s Central Counties area, spoke on his company's fund-raising techniques and attitudes towards the United Fund campaign.

Coin dealer reports theft

George E. Pollard, 50 N. Milton Ave., reported to Campbell Police the theft of numerous rare coins from his home.

A glass window in the patio door was broken to gain entry. Pollard operates Pollard Stamp and Coin Shop at 86 E. Campbell Ave.

Parents urge crossing guard

Protests were again voiced at Monday's City Council meeting by parents with children in the Campbell schools who must cross San Tomas Expressway at Campbell Ave. They asked the city to supply a crossing guard, or at least a warning sign for motorists.

Mrs. Edward Boos, 291 Beverly Ct., asked the city's cooperation in protecting the children at the crosswalk near the right hand turn-off at Campbell Ave. heading south on the expressway. She said that motorists can't see the children until they are practically on top of them because of the curve and many of the cars are driving too fast to handle the curve safely. She urged that some warning sign for motorists be erected near the corner of Virginia Ave., warning motorists to slow down.

CAMPBELL LAST

At the other end of the string, however, is Campbell.

In Gilroy, for example, with total sales of $5,042,000, "auto sales" accounted for $1,584,000. Gilroy's population is 10,258.

In Los Altos, with a population of 23,793, total retail sales came to $7,605,000. Eating and drinking places totalled $1,001,000 and "autos" $1,051,000.

In Cupertino, population 12,043, total sales were $5,911,000 and "food stores" took first place with $1,622,000 followed by "autos" with $873,000.

Campbell's five top categories for the second quarter were: building materials, $2,094,000; home furnishing, $1,867,000; food stores, $941,000; eating and drinking places, $619,000 and drug stores, $288,000.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

U.S. DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
SOCIAL SECURITY ADMINISTRATION

Q. My daughter, who is getting social security benefits, will be 18 years old in two months. She is a full-time student. Will my benefits as her mother continue as long as she remains in school? I am 55 years old, and a widow.

A. Your social security payments as a mother will stop with the month before your daughter becomes 18. However, your daughter's benefit payments can continue as long as she is under 22 and continues to be a full-time student, and is unmarried. When you reach 60, you should check at your Social Security Office about the resumption of your widow's benefits.

Q. I have read that my monthly widow's benefit, if started at 60, will be reduced. Will you explain this please?

A. Any widow who files when she is 60 or 61 will have her monthly benefit reduced according to the number of months she will receive benefits before 62. This reduction will be permanent.

Q. Was the lump-sum death benefit increased under the 1965 changes in Social Security?

A. The maximum lump-sum death benefit remains at $255. The minimum, however, has been increased from $120 to $132.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

The "power of the purse" and control of public money is admittedly great. But the power to tax is greater.

The taxing power makes the Internal Revenue Service one of the most powerful agencies of the United States Government--and potentially one of the most dangerous.

Congress found long ago that it is impossible to write tax laws in such detail that every tax situation and a prescribed manner of handling it is spelled out in the law. So the Internal Revenue Service is granted vast discretionary powers which could be perverted and misused.

There is some present concern over the manner in which IRS uses its power. For example, some feel that the recent decision by Internal Revenue to review the tax exempt status of the Sierra Club came very close to coercion.

In the midst of the club's public relations campaign in opposition to construction of the ill-advised dams on the Colorado River, the Internal Revenue Service, prompted by supporters of the plan to build the dams, decided to investigate the club's tax exempt status. If this is not coercion, then it is certainly a classic example of bad public relations timing.

I have introduced legislation to require the Internal Revenue Service to apply the ruling of tax cases they lose in the courts or appeal within a reasonable time. As matters stand now, IRS can force each taxpayer to go to court in his own right to prove the same point which the courts have already ruled upon.

In opposing my bill, IRS has made some interesting statements. In 1960 an Assistant to the Secretary of the Treasury said: "To assume, as the bill seems to do, that in all instances courts will reach a more equitable and correct result than the Commissioner is unrealistic and unreasonable."

Though the Assistant Secretary probably did not intend it, this sounds amazingly like a desire to place the Internal Revenue Service above and beyond our judicial system.

Later in the same report the Secretary said: "It would appear unwise to upset the established hierarchy among court decisions and to confer on decisions of lower federal courts the same binding effect as decisions of the Supreme Court."

This is a curious interpretation of our judicial system. Isn't any court decision binding on the persons affected until it is reversed? Why should the Internal Revenue Service be the exception?

Mutual funds are traded in the market under two quotations--the "bid" and "ask" prices. This means that to buy, one must pay a higher price, usually 8 or 9 percent, above what he can receive if he wishes to sell his shares.

Yet the Internal Revenue Service insists upon levying inheritance taxes based upon the higher price, even though the individual who inherits the shares has no chance of selling them for that amount.

Under its board powers of interpretation, IRS could penalize any group for holding a political or social point of view by denying tax exemption. This is a power which is so great that it must be watched --and watched carefully!

Grass Roots

Almost every community has small "problem areas" - the gore where two streets intersect at an angle, the odd lot in the downtown area that proved too small to build on, vacant ground at the edge of interurban and expressway rights-of-way. These areas provide a challenge that is easily solved by city enterprise, your local nurserymen, and beauty-minded citizens, believes the California Association of Nurserymen.

Take one problem at a time - plan the solution; install trees, shrubs, and paving; and arrange with the city for perpetual maintenance. Take the problem of the gore for a starter:

LOW PLANTINGS

Situations of this kind require low plantings that will not interfere with the vision of motists converging on the intersection. The many varieties of spreading junipers provide an ideal planting medium. There are at least 25 varieties from which to choose, with a choice of green, blue, gold-tipped, or gold-flecked foliage. The Andorra Juniper provides a contrasting purplish-blue during the winter months.

There is a further choice of growth heights. The Bar Harbor, Tamarisk, Shore, and Wilton varieties hug the ground. The Pfitzer varieties grow to a height of four feet (good for cutting down headlight glare). For color while the junipers are developing, use one of the many, many varieties of petunias. Solid colors work best. Mixed colors are too distracting.

To relieve a flat appearance, install a few upright trees - varieties of commonly-used trees with a pyramidal habit. Magnolia grandiflora Russet is a good example for an evergreen tree.

The West Valley Vikings were tripped up 19-12 by Gavilan College last Friday night at Hollister in a coast conference opener.

Next Friday night, the Vikes host the Menlo Oaks at Buck Shaw Stadium with the opening kick-off slated for 8 p.m.

Gavilan gained two firsts this year in sending the hapless Vikes to their third straight loss. For the Rams, the game marked their first victory of the season against two losses.

West Valley, though losing, showed a marked improvement in its ability to move the ball. Twice in the second half, the Vikes drove to within ten yards of the Ram goal line but were forced to give up the ball on downs.

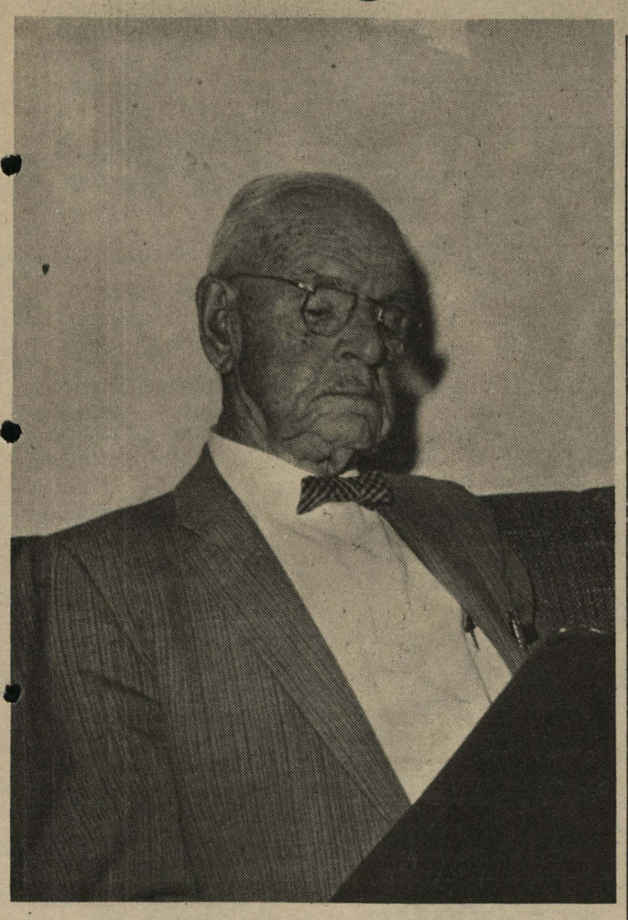
A Campbell PRESS WANT AD Doesn't Cost It PAYS!

Active nonagenarian joins Kiwanis Club



O. L. KINCHELOE

O.L. Kincheloe recently became Campbell Kiwanis Club's newest member. What makes this fact unusual is that Kincheloe celebrated his 96th birthday last September 25. The sparkle in his eye coupled with his alert sense of humor belies his age.

Kincheloe and his wife reside at 601 Alpha Ct., in Campbell. They are former residents of University City, Missouri. They came to California to be near their son William L. Kincheloe and his family, 1758 Curtner Ave., San Jose.

Kincheloe gave up driving his own automobile several years ago. Therefore, Fred Peterson, principal of Forest Hills Grammer School and Tony Perreira, principal of Marshall Lane School take turns in bringing Kincheloe to the Tuesday noon meetings of the Campbell Kiwanis Club at the Country Woman's Club.

In an interview with the Press, Kincheloe said his formula for longevity is to be born on a farm, work hard and to "keep tired." He believes in having something to do at all times. He doesn't smoke or drink hard liquor.

Mr. and Mrs. Kincheloe observed their 55th wedding anniversary in June. Mrs. Kincheloe told the Press she was a "high school dropout" who married Kincheloe when he was forty years of age, in spite of warnings of her parents and physician, who predicted she would be left a widow while still a young woman.

Kincheloe rises every morning at 4 a.m. and takes an hour's walk to "keep in shape." He says his early rising habits are the result of his having to get up at that hour on the farm in Monroe City, Missouri.

Kincheloe was active in Kiwanis in Missouri for over forty years and took an active part in "Boy and Girl" work of the organization. As a senior member of Campbell Kiwanis Club, the membership will no doubt benefit greatly from his experience and advice. According to local Kiwanians, Kincheloe is a "real live wire."

Fire Prevention week stresses outdoor burning regulations

In connection with the Fire Prevention week observance Captain Lee Neal of the Campbell Fire Department emphasized the rules governing outside burning in the city of Campbell.

Captain Neal also pointed out that most of the same regulations apply to county residents of other cities in the Campbell Press circulation area.

Outdoor burning in a barrel with a wire screen on top is allowed without a permit between the hours of 6 a.m. and 12 noon every day except Sunday, when you may burn all day long.

If you desire to burn accumulated trash, leaves, prunings etc. on the ground during the same hours, residents are reminded that a burning permit, free of charge, must be obtained from the fire district under which your residence is protected.

Illegal burning after hours or if on the ground burning is done without a permit. the Smog Control Board, which has the authority to issue permits, may fine the responsible party.

Other rules and regulations concerning outdoor burning are listed below:

Pick a windless day for doing the job and take the necessary time to adequately prepare the area before starting to burn. Rake all dry grass and burnable trash away from posts, wooden fences and buildings.

Get yourself a broom and a bucket of water to wet it in and be sure you have a good water supply available which can be used to douse surrounding areas or knock down fires that get too hot to handle with a rake or broom. Tank of water with several buckets or a hose, with pressure at the nozzle, that is long enough to extend beyond the boundaries of the burn area should be adequate.

It is always a good idea to have other adults standing by to lend a hand if needed. Control the spread of fire by beating down the advancing flames and never permit yourself to become entrapped by flames. Stay out of dense smoke.

Never leave a fire unattended and keep children out of the burn area. When the burn is completed, wet down the section. Make sure that the fire is extinguished and that the area is cooled.

Fires are serious business and burning off an area is a serious responsibility. Treat it as such. Tackle the job seriously, recognize its hazards, and treat them realistically Obey all local ordinances and give full attention to doing the job safely by complying with safety rules and observing sound procedure.

RIC MASTEN

Ric Masten, song writer and publisher, will do his "Singing Sermon" on Sunday, Oct. 16, for the Los Gatos Unitarian Fellowship at the St. Lawrence Episcopal Church, 65 West Rincon Ave., Campbell. The time is 11:30.

Ric Masten is a native Californian now living with his wife and four children in the Big Sur area. He has had some sixty of his songs published and released on record. A few of his better known records are "Girls Cry Over Boys, Christmas in the Congo and The Truth."

In 1963, he tired of the money oriented business of "What sells is what to write" and decided to write what he wanted to write if only for himself. He calls his songs "question songs"... questions about war, civil rights, youth, sex ethics, religious beliefs, conservation, etc.

The public is invited to hear Ric Masten. There will be child care for the younger ones.

For further information call the Chairman of the Los Gatos Unitarian Fellowship, Ted Balgooyen, 354-9659, or Vice Chairman, Len Feldheym, 857-1495.

Miss Stamper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Stamper, 921 Daffodil Way, was graduated from Blackford High School in 1966. She has been active in the Future Nurses Club and is a member of the Honor Society and C.S.F.

The three-year diploma nursing program at the San Jose Hospital School of Nursing includes registration at either San Jose State College or San Jose City College for academic courses to be taken in conjunction with nursing education at the hospital.

Students at the School of Nursing receive instruction in such subjects as theory of nursing, diet therapy, nutrition, history of nursing and survey of nursing trends. An important part of their training is the clinical experience the students receive in the hospital.

Classes at the School of Nursing are under the supervision of Mrs. Barbara Schmidt, R.N., director of nursing education.

Today let's talk about the cars without wheels . . . These are not figments of a designer's "pipe dream" . . . There actually are a few of these around; but they are refered to as "air sleds". These conveyences ride on a cushion of air blasted downward from the body and are propelled horizontally - - - forward, backward or sideways - - - by jets of high-speed or compressed air. The possibilities of these air sleds stagger the imagination. No tires, naturally, are needed. There is almost frictionless ride with virtually no limit to the speed they can attain. Moreover, they need no paved roads and can travel over water as easily as land. Fantastic? Perhaps, but what blacksmith of fifty years ago could have dreamed of the hydramatic drive? . . .

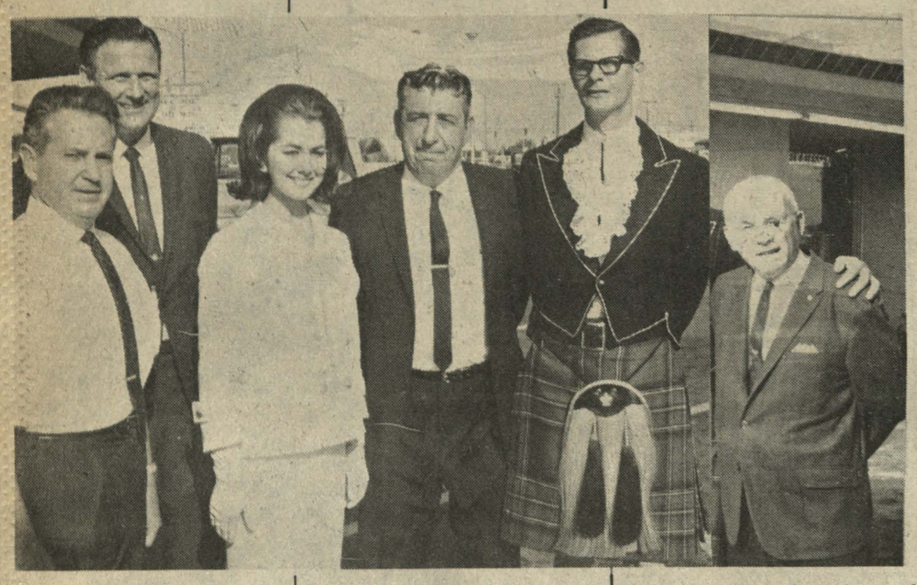
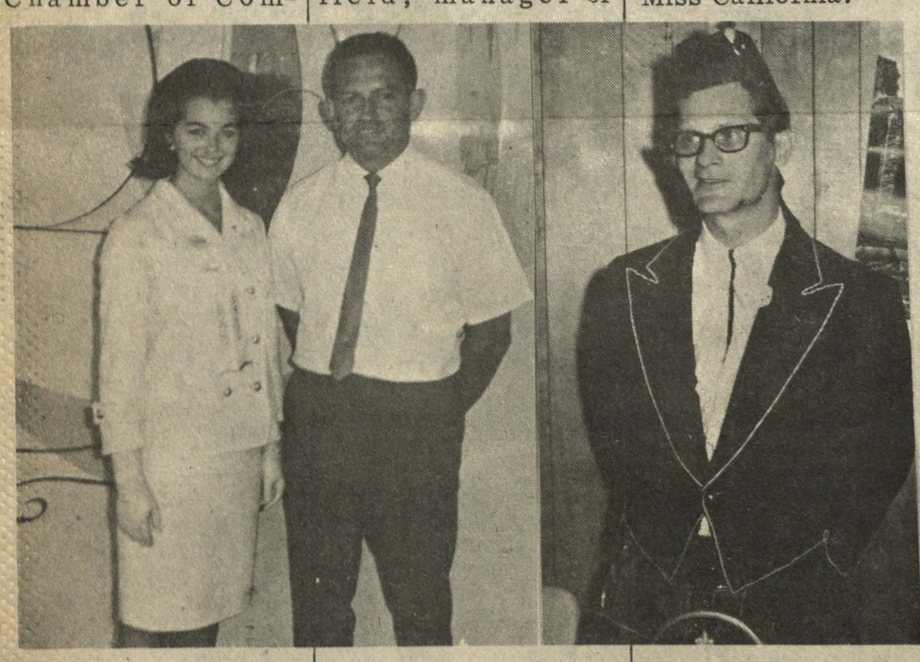
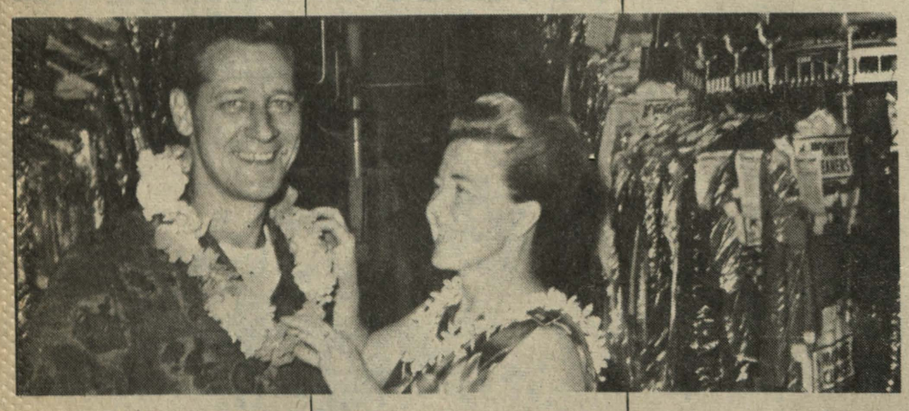
SIDEWALK DAZE--Kirkwood Plaza, located at Campbell Ave., and San Tomas Aquino Rd., arrayed itself with travel posters, gay flags, continental costumes, and sidewalk shops and cafes, for the International Fiesta Days Program, celebrated with much success, and fun-for-all. Pictured above, are some of the many outside displays of items at bargain prices. In attendance at these booths you may even identify the shop-owners, themselves, indeed, an International Festival!



NATIVE SONS OF... SOMEPLACE!--The Vice-Mayor, Edward Rogers, along with Dick Hardy, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Miss California, Ira Kirkorian, developer of Kirkwood Plaza, Myrle MacLean, and (aside) Jim Duffield, manager of Campbell's Chamber of Commerce, eagerly (!) await the pleasure of individually greeting Charlene Diane Dallas, Miss California.



EYES HAVE IT!--While Bob Poen, treasurer of the Plaza's Merchant Committee, has a hard time of keeping his eyes front, and away from Miss California. Myrle Mac Lean, of Mac Lean's Mens and Boys Shop, seems to be enjoying doing "Eyes Right." (Bob Poen, busy proprietor of Michele's Slenderizing Salon, took time out from his busy day... and night...to coordinate all of the Big Doings at Kirkwood Plaza.



MOTHER PIN A LEI ON ME!--Mrs. Paul Schroeder, Jackie to her good looking hubby, Paul, (they have seven children(can still smile, and decorate "Dad", even after a hectic day handling all of those clothes, "the folks brought in to us, during the Festival."

Tom Haller, S.F Giant catcher comes to Campbell Drugs Oct. 22

L. E. (Bill) Means, of Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy, located in the Campbell Shopping Center, Winchester at Latimer, has announced that his concern is sponsoring a visit by the popular Giant catcher, Tom Haller, on Saturday, Oct. 22.

Haller, long a mainstay on the S. F. Giant team, has consistently come through when the team has really needed him to get them through the doldrums.

This "pinch-in-the-nick-of-time" has not only endeared Haller to the Giant fans but has also earned him the esteem of his fellow players. He is player representative for the Giants.

"He really hits when the pressure is on," Means commented, "And we are sure he'll also be a big hit when he comes to Campbell Oct. 22 and the local fans put the pressure on him."

Mayor Ralph Doetsch, former Mayor Charles Rose and other city officials have been invited to meet and greet the popular big league ball player when he comes to town.

Means has also extended an invitation to all Little League, Pony League and other leagues for youths in the area to come to Campbell Drugs on Saturday, Oct. 22, to meet Haller of the team that "almost made it".

TOM HALLER TO BE HERE--That tall man from Illinois, Tom Haller, player representative of the S. F. Giants, the team that almost made it, will visit Campbell Drugs in the Campbell Shopping Center, Winchester at Latimer, on Saturday, Oct. 22.

Haller, rugged first string catcher for the Giants, may catch writer's cramp at Campbell Drugs while autographing the many requests from admiring fans, including Little Leaguers and old-timers as well.

City officials will be on hand to greet the big league ball player of the team that went right down to the wire.

CAMPBELL DRUGS OFFERS NEW SERVICE--Campbell Drugs and Pharmacy, 1739 N. Winchester Blvd. has added a "Home Comfort Aids Center", according to Earl Nichols, associate in the firm. Wheel chairs, crutches, cane walkers and other equipment can now be either rented or purchased from the Campbell Drugs for nominal charges. Nichols points out that of the 19 million people 65 or over, half of them have some physical impairment. "The care of our citizens who are either physically handicapped, or convalescing, concerns us all," Nichols said, "and this was one of the basic reasons that we felt it was important to add this department to our store."
